

The Crafton - Burnett House 149 Fern Ave.

The first family to occupy this Sears Roebuck home was the Stalley family. Mr. Stalley worked for the highway department in Old Forge. The Crafton bungalow, #3318C, was built by their neighbor

Jack Hughes in the early 1930's from a kit that cost $1,170. The current owners are Jack & Dora Burnett who own a catalogue handed down by the previous owner, which has their Crafton home illustrated in it on page 25.

The Burnett's house still has most of the original floor plan, although the front porch has been enclosed and new windows were installed. Although the kitchen and bath have been remodeled, they kept all the vintage fixtures. In spite of a few changes, the Burnett's, like their neighbors on Fern Ave., are proud owners of their Sears

Roebuck Honorbilt home. Photo courtesy of Annette Vogel.